Cheat-Code To Success

" Anything worth doing takes exceptionally longer than you expect it to and until you worked a 1000 hours on a single project you don't even understand the amount of work it requires to make something great , by extension why you can't do many things you want if you want them to be worth doing .

Enough Ways

" You're not getting what you want Because you're not Attacking the Problems you have enough times in enough ways . "
